THE GREAT MIND OF SARDAR: A FOUNDING FATHER OF GLS

Once in a generation, there comes an intellectual leader and visionary, who aims for the skies, feet firmly on ground, mind made of diamond and fist made of iron, with sheer dedication and focus which might put Eagles also to shame.

One such visionary was Sardar Patel.

There are many reasons why Patel has become a silent icon. One of the main reasons is that he was a man of action for whom work was primary while photo shoots & public appearances were secondary. To give a simple analogy, we get mesmerized during the inauguration function of a building, we often forget to give due credit to the engineer behind the construction and instead end up admiring the charismatic chief guest who cuts the ribbon.

If India is such a well built, complex building, then one can safely assume that Sardar Patel is the chief engineer.

Apart from the usual politics, he was actively involved in nation building in several different ways. For example, the idea of co-operatives for milk industry was the brainchild of Patel which led to white revolution (headed by Dr. Kurien of Amul). Sardar was instrumental in motivating farmers to join the movement so as to break the monopoly enjoyed by private players and place the power among hands of the farmers/producers.

As the first Home Minister and Deputy Prime Minister of India, Sardar Patel led efforts to restore peace across the nation. Patel took charge of the task to forge a united India from the British colonial provinces and more than five hundred self-governing princely states. Using frank diplomacy, backed with the option and use of military force, Sardar Patel's leadership persuaded almost every princely state. It is no wonder that he is known as the "Iron Man of India".

As one of the founding fathers of Gujarat Law Society, he leads the heritage GLS has of great minds. We are proud to be associated with this incomparably exalted man.

MIND OVER MATTER

By Jean Dsouza

The mind is everything. What you think you become.

-Buddha

The importance of the human mind is obvious. Since ancient times, scriptures and writings have been telling us the importance of controlling the mind, the capacity of the mind to direct our lives, the magnitude of the unlimited human mind. In simple terms, the mind is the power-source of our life. As we think, so we become, says the Buddha.

The power of the human mind is evident in power that the rishis and the sages of ancient times had. They could bless or curse, and it would come true. The power of the human mind is manifest in personages like Sai Baba, Gautam Buddha, Mahavir Swami, Prophet Mohammed, and many others who could perform miracles, make sick people well, live without food and water, reform society. The power of the human mind is evident in the power of great personalities like Mahatma Gandhi, Swami Vivekananda, Sardar Patel, who had not so much of physical strength, and yet could influence masses.

There are many other ways in which the power of the mind is revealed. In the center-spread of this issue, you will see the different ways in which the power of the mind can be used. From telekinesis to hypnosis, from controlling pain to memorising and calculating, from attaining peace and stability to experiencing the divine, there is only one phrase that repeats itself: THE MIND CAN BE STRONGER THAN MATTER.

As you break for the vacation this year, we suggest that you increase the power of your mind too.

Learning never exhausts the mind. – Leonardo da Vinci

NAAC VISITS GLS

The National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) is an autonomous body funded by UGC, India. It assesses and accredits institutions of higher education in the country. The NAAC assessment is a continuous process which aims at quality enhancement in higher education.

GLS (J P Shah) Institute of Business

Administration was the first self financed institution of Gujarat Law Society to have undergone the accreditation process of NAAC on the 28th and 29th of March 2015.

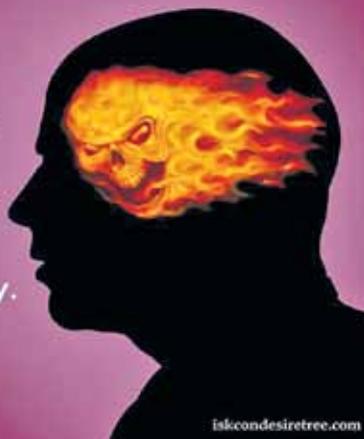

The NAAC team also visited Smt. Laxmiben & Shri Chimanlal Mehta Arts College on the 10th and 11th of April 2015. This was the second accreditation cycle of this college.

CLEANLINESS – AN ACT OF THE MIND

The outer environment is a reflection of our inner environment.

By Urvashi Kasturirangan

Ma-hatma Gandhi once said “I will not let anyone walk through my mind with their dirty feet.” Gandhiji was known for his various cleanliness campaigns and drives dwelt on good habits, cleanliness and its close relationship with good health. Cleanliness is an important aspect for physical well being and a healthy environment. So what really drives a change to have a clean surrounding?

Cleanliness primarily is an act of having and maintaining a neat and a clean surrounding, has essentially got a lot more to it. Having a clean and a healthy environment has more to do with our thinking. And while some of us are doing the primary task of cleanliness quite diligently, most of us have failed to take an initiative and willingly work for a neat and clean country. It is said the way you are is exactly how you want your surroundings to be. The outer environment is a reflection of our inner environment. And though it is something that we avoid every time, it is vital to have a clean mind and healthy body.

Though it may seem to be a tough task at first, it is the simple shift in the focus that can change our approach. All one needs is a dedicated action. Once we set our mind to have a neat and a clean surrounding, all our actions would mirror our thought process. Rightly said by Arthur Ashe, ‘Start where you are, Use what you have and do what you can.’ If one man, Gandhiji could change the nation with just his views and limited resources available, imagine what each one of us could do cumulatively? We have the tools and resources to apply an internal focus that will influence our actions that will enable our environment to match how we are thinking. It is high time now that we not only work upon bringing a change externally, but internally as well, for what your mind perceives, it conceives.

“If you become your own scavenger, you will make your surroundings clean. It needs less courage to become an expert scavenger than to win a Victoria Cross” - Gandhiji

BE YOUR OWN MASTER

It has been noticed that the average person talks to himself or herself about 50 times in a day, and that this self-talk is 90% negative. In other words, an average person thinks negative thoughts more than 90% of the time that he/she thinks. This mind talk creates a powerful effect on us and on our attitude. This kind of self-talk acts as a de-motivator within us. If you are not careful, it can demoralize you, deactivate you, even kill you.

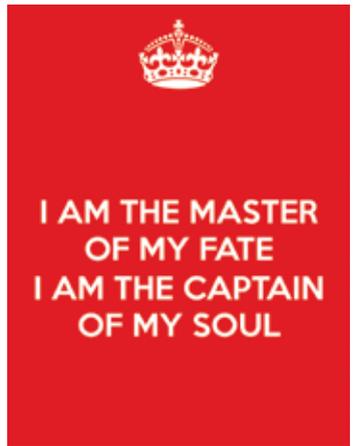

“BE THE KOHINOOR OF YOUR LIFE”

The way you polish yourself is how you will be seen as a brand in the market. You are the ultimate authority of what you have to do.

Even our body manages to separate the unwanted blood from the pure blood and sends it to different systems. You have to separate the negativity, send it for purification and cleansing. You have to think positive thoughts and talk to your mind to create a path of success and happiness.

Generally people focus on the bad and never on the good in a situation. When I was in a college, I used to tick mark important questions and the less important questions were always left out during the exam preparations. This does not really work in the long run.

Once in a job interview, my interviewer asked me to tell him one good thing in myself. I was not able to answer at once. The next question was to tell him one bad thing in myself, and I replied instantly. The truth is that we keep on looking our weak points more frequently than on our strong or potential points. We need to focus on positivity within ourselves.

If you plant beautiful and healthy thoughts in your mind, you will reap a beautiful and healthy life. The positive thought will yield good results in the same way that negative thoughts yield bad results.

You cannot sow poison ivy and hope to reap apples. That is why it is important to say the right things and sometimes we have to make a deliberate effort to do so through positive affirmations.

A good exercise to build your potential is to write one word daily which makes you stronger. It will create a good change in how you see yourself.

Try to spend a minimum of one minute on your positive thought and make sure to be very specific in what you want yourself to do. If you do it loud, do it with as much passion as possible.

By Pearl Rodrigues
"The last scene of all
That ends the strange eventful history

Is second childishness and mere oblivion

Sans teeth, Sans eyes, Sans taste, Sans everything!!!"

These lines of Shakespeare from the concluding part of the play 'As you like it' portrays old age, wherein a person loses the control over all his essential senses and needs to be attended as a child. Though this stage is referred to as second childhood, it does not get the care & attention that infants are given. The basic reason behind the insensitive outlook towards this age group is the replacement of the nuclear family system against the age-old traditional joint family system.

schools of Gujarat Law Society to give the students a small-break through from the year's monotonous routine. This year a similar summer camp was organized with activities pertaining to sports & fitness, Numerical Dexterity, fine arts etc.

At the completion of this summer camp students of C.U. Shah, K.N. & G.L.S. English medium Primary schools came up with two solo & two group dance performances crafted with a noble cause. These performances were presented on Saturday, 25th April, at Jeevan Sandhya - 'The Home for the Aged' at Naranpura, Ahmedabad. The performances given by the students were choreographed by Nidhip Shah. The inmates of the retirement home were overwhelmed.

"We would not have got a better entertainment value than this even if we had paid an exorbitant amount" was what a 96 year old grandfather said.

(The writer is a teacher of English at C.U. Shah School.)

The Summer Science Activity of GLS Primary Schools began with full enthusiasm where 22 students of STD IV to VIII participated. The first activity was Water Rocket making and launching. This workshop of rocket making was conducted by a team of experts like:

- 1) Shri. M.P.Deomurari - Retired Scientist Physical Research Laboratory (PRL), who is involved in research related to study of meteorites and terrestrial rocks to understand evolution of early solarn system. He is also involved with novel rocketry since 1976 and his role was to initiate the activity in India.
- 2) Pratham Amble - International Competitor and Core member of model Rocketry club.
- 3) Neel Shah - Young computer engineer who is conducting model rocketry workshop since 12 years.
- 4) Riddhi Shah - Core member of model Rocketry Club.

- In this activity students learnt about Water Booster Rocket including Newton's Law of Gravitation, Aerodynamic drag, Centrifugal force etc. Every child made a rocket of his own with bottles of peps. Children did their work with lot of precision. Next day their rockets were launched from GLS ground. It was a beautiful sight. Every child's rocket went up nicely. There was lot of happiness on children's faces.
- Then a 12 day Crazy Science workshop was held which included making Newton Disc, Water lens Balloon rocket, Soil erosion optical illusion Dam alert system, Energy charging, Paper moulds, Fire extinguisher, Bottle fountains, Hovercraft, Marble Sculpture, chromatography, Clay model, Salt painting and many more activities Children Enthusiastically learnt all this.

- Trip to Serenity Library- Botanical Garden. This was a unique Experience for the children as they went for a nature trail. They felt themselves very close to nature and saw various species of plants, herbs, flowers, fruits, animals birds etc. Metamorphosis of butterfly and various life stages of animals were also seen by them. A documentary film on animal habitat was also shown to them.

MIND OVER MATTER

Everything has to first exist in the mind before it is manifested. In 19 B.C., the classical Greek poet Virgil wrote in "The Aeneid": "Mind moves matter". Today every successful sportstar first 'sees' his victory in his mind and then repeats it on the field. Medical science says that most of the illnesses in the world are psychosomatic, i.e. they are caused by the mind. People who worry too much normally end up with ulcers as their agitated mental state has a dramatic effect on the production of acid in their stomach. Our mind is like an all absorbing computer. It stores all the data that we come across in life, right from the time of our birth. According to Indian philosophy, the subconscious also has records of our past lives. Here are some examples of how the mind can win over matter.

PLACEBO EFFECT

A placebo is an inert substance or belief which produces real biological effects in humans. Does a drug work on its own merits or because people "think" it works?

A test was done by a group of Princeton students who decided to throw a non-alcoholic party for their unsuspecting classmates. The experimenters secretly filled bottles of alcohol with a flavoured drink and then watched as their peers acted silly, slurred words, slept on the ground, and generally acted drunk. These college students had such a strong belief they were drinking alcohol, that it affected their behaviour.

NOCERO EFFECT

The nocebo effect produces negative results, such as a cancer patient vomiting before chemotherapy starts or someone breaking out in a rash because they thought they touched poison ivy, even though it was merely an ordinary plant.

An incident published in "New Scientist" wrote about a man, Vance, who went to a cemetery and met a witch doctor. The witch doctor told Vance that he was going to die soon. Believing the witch doctor's prediction, Vance soon fell ill and within a matter of weeks was close to death. Vance was taken to the hospital but the medical doctors could find nothing wrong with him. Finally, Vance's wife told the physician about the encounter with the witch doctor. The next day, the medical doctors tracked down the witch doctor. The witch doctor retracted his prediction. The next day, Vance awoke alert, hungry, and soon he fully recovered.

POSITIVITY AND MEDITATION

Undoubtedly it's difficult to keep a positive attitude when you're facing a life-threatening disease, but, based on a variety of medical studies, doing so may mean the difference between living and dying.

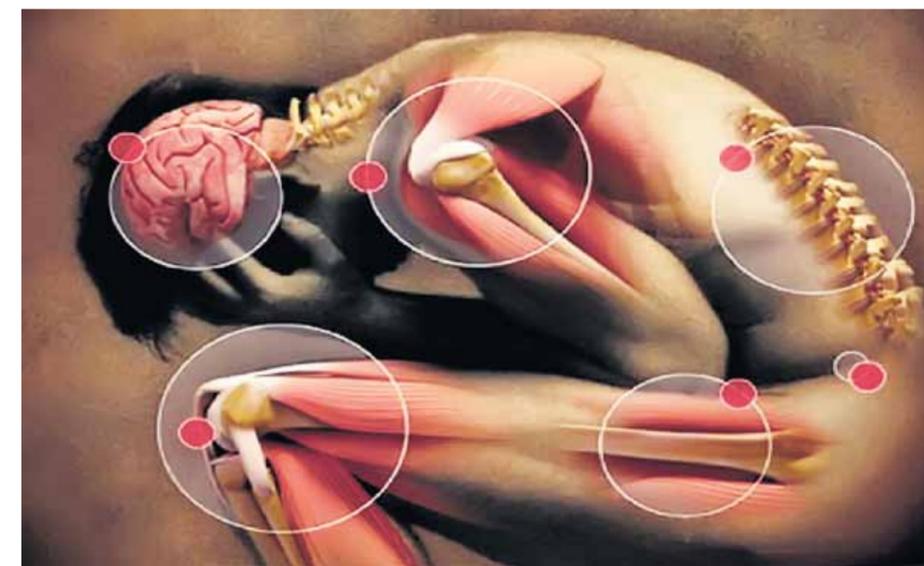

For example, in 1989, Dr. David Spiegel of Stanford University conducted a study on 86 women with late stage breast cancer. Half of those women received standard medical care while the other half were given weekly support sessions in addition to the standard medical care. During the sessions the women shared their feelings, talked with other patients, and generally had a positive outlet where they could cope with their illness. At the end of the study, the women in the support group lived twice as long as those not in the group. In 1999, a similar study found that cancer patients who have feelings of helplessness and hopelessness have a lower chance of survival.

YOGIS NEARLY STOP HEART BEAT

Indian Yogis seem to be capable of manipulating their physiological processes while in deep meditation. After hearing stories of yogis spending 28 days underground and surviving, in 1936, a French cardiologist named Therese Brosse travelled to India to see if the yogis truly did have such talents. In her experiments, the yogis reportedly slowed their heart down so slow that it was only detectable via an EKG machine.

Two of their test subjects were placed in air-tight sealed boxes, on two separate occasions, and were monitored for 8 to 10 hours. During that time the Yogis showed biological characteristics similar to sleep and were able to slow down their heart rate and respiration to low enough levels so that oxygen and carbon dioxide quantities inside the box remained virtually in the same proportions as found in air at sea level. Thus, it was shown that the Yogis could even survive a live-burial by controlling their minds.

BLOCK OUT PAIN

Jack Schwarz, a Dutch Jewish writer, lived in horrific conditions while forced into a Nazi concentration camp during World War II. Like so many others, he was beaten, starved, and tortured beyond limits. To cope with his situation, he began the practice of meditation and prayer, which he developed to the point where he could block out the pain of his torment and subsequently withstand his situation.

After his release, Schwarz continued his mind over matter practice. He also displayed his ability to regulate his body's blood flow by causing the puncture hole in his arm to bleed or stop bleeding at will. Schwarz was studied by researchers at the Menninger Foundation who found that he could indeed control many of his bodily processes with only his mind. According to Schwarz, he could also see people's auras, which allowed him to gauge their physical, emotional, spiritual, and mental conditions.

WEIGHT LOSS

Some researchers think positivity is a missing variable in the weight loss equation, and a lack of it is what's keeping people overweight.

To prove the point that the mind has a major impact on the body, Harvard psychologist Ellen Langer conducted an experiment on a group of predominantly overweight hotel maids who, judging by their daily activity levels, should have been thin. Despite essentially exercising all day long through their work, Langer discovered through a survey that 67% of the maids felt they didn't do any type of exercise. Langer predicted the maids' perceptions were hampering their weight loss, so she took half the maids aside and, in addition to taking their physical measurements, explained that through their cleaning work they were exceeding the surgeon general's definition of an active lifestyle. The other half of the maids were given no information.

A month later, Langer's team returned to the hotel and re-evaluated the maids. They found an overall decrease in systolic blood pressure, weight, and waist-to-hip ratio in the informed group. The other group had no significant physical changes.

આ હિમયુગ નવસુંદર છે...

આવ આગળ આવી થોભ નહીં,
સ્વજાત નરંતર ઢાળી દે,
તું ભારે એ તું કરી શકે,
બસ દ્રષ્ટિકોણની વાળી દે..

સમવિશે મંહી પરચમ અનંત,
અનંત શક્તિ તુંજ અંદર છે,
આ હિમયુગ તું જ થકી થયો,
આ હિમયુગ નવસુંદર છે...
આ હિમયુગ નવસુંદર છે.

સૌ થોભ શાપનોનાશ કરી,
વરદાન ઉજવવા નું તારે,
નવધારને ધરખમ ખાસ કરી,
આ ગગન ગજવવાનું તારે..

સૌ બધા બાહુપાશમ લઈ,
તે રચ્યો મહા સમંદર છે,
આવ 'અર્થ' કહે તુંજથી પ્રદાન,
આ હિમયુગ નવસુંદર છે...

બાળકોને મળ્યા તથા એમની સાથે અલક-મલકની વાતો કરીને હસાવ્યા તથા વાર્તાઓ કહી હતી. આ મુલાકાતથી વિદ્યાર્થીઓમાં તેમની સમાજ પ્રત્યેની ફરજની સભાનતા કેળવાઈ હતી. એચ.એ.પરિવારના પ્રેમના પ્રતિક રૂપે આ પરિવાર તરફથી એ સંસ્થા માટે રોજબરોજની જીવન જરૂરીયાતની ચીજવસ્તુઓ જેવીકે નિરમા વોશિંગ પાવડર અને સાબુ, નિરમા સોપ, નિરમા

આજે, મારી સ્મૃતિ મંજુષા ખોલું છું ત્યારે, તાદૃશ્ય થાય છે એ સમય તેના જુદા જુદા સ્વરૂપે આ મજલમાં મારી સાથે હતાં મારા સાથી શિક્ષકો, બાળકો, વાલીઓ અને આ આપણો પરિવાર. આ સમયે સ્નેહનું સિંચન કરી વેલ માંથી વૃક્ષ બનાવનાર નિપુણ આચાર્યગણને કેવી રીતે ભૂલું ! જે બાંધવાથી બંધાય અને તોડવાથી તુટી જાય એનું નામ બંધન, પણ જે આપમેળે બંધાઈ જાય અને જીવનભર ન તૂટે એનું નામ સંબંધ. ૩૩ વર્ષનો આપણો હુંફાળો સંબંધ, માડું જીવનભરનું મીઠું સંભાણું ક્યારેક ટહુકે મનના ખુણેથી આ સંબંધનું ભીનું સંભારણું.

RESTAURANT REVIEW

Fozzie's Pizzaiolo

The restaurant started on the basis of a take away in 2014 and has now turned into a small pizzeria.

The unique selling point – USP – of Fozzie's is the charcoal fired pizzas. These have a unique flavour and taste, and are the first of their kind in Gujarat.

Along with pizzas, Fozzie's serves a variety of gourmet pastas and lasagna and a few antipasti as well. The other main attraction is the Chilli Garlic Basil Olive Oil which adds a unique flavour.

Serving both vegetarian and non-vegetarian dishes, the place has a unique environment and ambience.

No Mistake is one of the most selling pizzas on the menu. Other hot selling pizzas are Flames and Three Cheese. In the non-veg section, BBQ chicken and Pork Fiesta are simply amazing.

The cheese used in the pizzas is a special blend of mozzarella and cheddar which gives a nice bubbly effect.

Among the delicious Lasagnas, the Cottage Pesto and Spinach Lasagna are favourites. Most meals are accompanied with in-house mustard, chilli oil and garlic oregano, which goes perfectly with the pizzas and others.

The owner, Mr. Parth Fozdar, is a chef by profession and has had experience in Switzerland. He has also had the rare opportunity to cook for tennis legend, Roger Federer.
